Injury; Order Finally Restored by Authorities; Protest to Pekin.

By United Press.

PEKIN, Jan. 12.—Storming down upon Suifu, the first division of regular Chinese troops plundered the village, attacked the American mission of the Protestant Fathers, a Catholic priest, and looted the Chinese flag, according to reports to the American Legation here.

According to first advices the soldiers acted under direct orders of General Hoyn-Tsun, commanding the Chinese inland province of Hunan. These orders, it was said, were to "destroy the mission and kill the foreign devils."

The troops advanced into the village without warning and stormed the mission. They fired on Father Benson of Athens, Pa., and Arthur Benson of Pittsburgh, Pa., two of the mission attaches, riddling their clothing. Miraculously, neither priest was injured. The troops then proceeded to shoot holes in the American flag flying over the mission.

After plundering the town the troops withdrew and at last reports Suifu was again quiet under control of higher officials. The customary protests are being made to the Chinese government by the American mission.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The Protestant Fathers have 12 priests stationed at missions in various parts of China, according to Rev. Julian, rector of St. Gabriel's Monastery here, when informed of the attack by Hunan troops on the mission at Suifu. There were only two fathers at the Suifu mission he said. They are Rev. Father Sullivan and Rev. Arthur Benson.

BERT MEANS SAVES MANY AUTOISTS FROM POSSIBLE INJURIES

Autoists traveling over city streets last night experienced a number of thrills and there were lots of minor accidents as a result of the light rain which fell in the evening freezing on the surface. No serious mishaps or injuries to any one as a result of this condition were reported.

The most dangerous points were West Side and Limestone hills. The bricks on them were covered with ice and it was impossible to control a machine on them. Some motorists, who, unaware of the slippery surface, got started down the hills had many breath-taking moments before reaching the bottom.

"Bert" Means commands the thanks of many local motorists today. Standing at the top of West Side hill he "hugged down" many machines, using a flashlight, and warning the drivers would send them around via Limestone avenue. Although that road is rough and unimproved it was far safer to travel than either of the improved highways.

The streets in the downtown section of the city were not so bad, the white surface being rather free of ice, but anywhere on the bricks the icy coating was found. Traffic was very light.

Butler Plans for Drive on Bandits, Gunmen, Dopesters

By United Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—A second 48-hour raid against vice and crime was planned today by Brigadier General Smadley D. Butler, new director of public safety, who in less than five days has turned Philadelphia from a wide open city into a virtual Quaker town.

With 773 of the 1,200 saloons of the city closed tight, and 90 per cent of the known vice dens wiped out, "Old Gimlet Eye" Butler has turned his attention to gunmen, bandits, confidence men and dope sellers.

Military tactics will be used to curb banditry. Armed police sentries will be detailed tonight to guard every exit from the city.

Armed bandit-chasing automobiles will be stationed at the city outskirts and at 12 police stations to close in on any band of desperadoes who attempt to operate.

"The clean-up has just begun," Butler, visibly tired but still full of fight, declared this morning. "The saloons and dives closed are going to stay closed and we will raid and keep on raiding as long as there is a single crime-breeding place open."

"We are now turning our efforts to attacking banditry but that does not mean we are going to relax our vigilance towards vice."

PINCHOT ENTRY MEANS FIGHT FOR DELEGATESHIPS

Someone Must Be Crowded Off
State and Woman May Be the One.

LEADERS NOT TALKING

By United Press.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 12.—The political volcano in Pennsylvania began to smolder today over the announcement of Governor Pinchot that he would be a candidate for delegate-at-large to the Cleveland convention. Possibility that a fight for delegates would be waged between the Republican organization and the independent, headed by Governor Pinchot, threw panic in some quarters where there is uncertainty of the significance of the Governor's stand.

Leaders are understood to be prepared to extend the customary courtesy to the Governor and accept his candidacy. This was said to be contingent, however, on agreement as to the membership of the delegation. Governor Pinchot would not comply with his brief statement as far as his attitude toward other delegates is concerned. He expressed some concern over the announcement that a woman was sought for the seventh place on the slate of delegate-at-large.

If the Governor accepts a place on the slate it is understood some one will have to be crowded out. It was reported prominent women leaders are ready to make a fight for representation.

SCOTSDALE CLUB LISTENS TO TALK ON INDIAN SITES

George Gordon Discusses Subject at Weekly Meeting of Hi-Y Boys.

VOLLEY LEAGUE FORMING

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Jan. 12.—The Hi-Y club held its regular weekly meeting at a dinner served in the Hi-Y rooms at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday noon. A very interesting talk on nature and Indian sites was given by George Gordon, a well-known "boy" man of Scottdale. Mr. Gordon spoke of some interesting facts concerning Indian sites, and told of some nearby Indian sites which he has visited and from which he has collected old Indian relics. The talk was enjoyed by every member present and a hike to one of the Indian sites will be staged under the guidance of Mr. Gordon in the near future.

A plan for holding the Hi-Y dinner and meeting in the evening was suggested and immediately adopted by the club. Hereafter the club will meet for dinner at 11:30 o'clock on Tuesday evenings. Directly following the close of the business session, an address of some educational value will be given as usual. Following the address the club will participate in a discussion group led by Mr. Wertz, editor of the Independent. Following the discussion group, the members will take to the gymnasium where group games will be played and where the Scottdale Hi-Y basketball team will be organized.

The above change in the routine of the club was adopted because of the short length of time that the club has heretofore had for carrying out its four-fold program. When the club met at noon, it had scarcely an hour for its program, while now all are assured of a full-time program without danger of tardiness at school.

Among The Churches

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN

—Where Norton crosses Pittsburgh. Francis J. Scott, D. D., minister. Bible school, 9:45 A. M.; morning worship, 11. The sermon in the morning is on the subject, "The Power of God," based on this passage "Now to Him who is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think according to the power that worketh in us." What kind of a conception of God do we have? Do we picture Him as a judge with a pen behind his ear and writing down the record of human sin? What is the use of praying, some one will say, when the universe is run by fixed laws? There are some things we must not expect God to do contrary to his own righteous character. We must not expect God to act unrighteously. We must not expect God to violate the principles on which the world has been built. In the evening at 7:30 the subject is "Christian Citizenship."

CHRISTIAN—Gen. Walker Buckner, minister. Bible school at 9:30, Senior and Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 8:30, topic, (same for both) "In His Steps." How and when Jesus prayed. John 17:1-26. Senior leader, Urban Dumbauld. Worship and sermon at 10:40; subject of sermon, "The Tender Pilgrims," a theme suggested by the reading of a little volume by Edgar DeWitt Jones, under the same title. The sermon will be an endeavor to set forth the true Christian spirit and attitude of the church and of parents toward the young. The second chapter of "The Evangelism of Youth" will be read at the morning service. In the evening Rev. C. M. Vocum of St. Louis, Mo., secretary of the United Christian Missionary Society, will preach. At the close of the evening service there will be a conference of the Bible school cabinet and of the officers of the church. The subject of this conference will be the present evangelistic campaign. Mr. Vocum will be a helpful participant and advisor in this conference.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN—J. L. Proudfoot, pastor. Bible school, 9:45; morning service, 11, subject of sermon, "The Come and Go." Those who have gone, gone astray, whose faith is gone, whose hope in this life and for the life to come is gone; outcasts, physical, mental, moral, on the shores of time, the brokenhearted, out of whose life the light is gone, have these forgotten God? A sermon for those who are out of the way. "The Father of Zebedee's Children" is the subject for the evening. "Who Was He?" used to be a catch question. But there is no catch here. We are serious about it. His biography is brief, a word picture in a single sentence. We see him for a moment, and then no more. He was head of one of the best known families in history, but who was he and what became of him? Also, why do we need to care?

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL—Donnell W. Hutchinson, D. D., pastor. Work on the new church is progressing but all services are now being held in the Cameron School Building, South Pittsburgh street. Sunday school meets at 9:45. Both men's classes and the N. C. D. Class meet in the Y. M. C. A. Morning worship, 11. Prelude on "Obedience to Law," and "Law Enforcement." Sermon on "The Leadership of Jesus Christ a Reality." Baptism of infants at this service. Evening evangelistic service at 7:30. Prelude on "The Bok Peace Plan." Sermon on the meaning of "The Kingdom is Heaven is at Hand." Epworth League meets at 8:30. Strangers and visitors welcome. Enter on east side of the building.

METHODIST PROTESTANT—West Apple street. J. H. Lamberton, minister. Class meeting, 9 A. M.; Sunday school, 9:45 A. M.; morning worship, 11 A. M., subject, "When What?"; Junior C. E. & P. M., intermediate C. E. & P. M., Senior C. E. & P. M., 8 P. M., Topic, "How Jesus Prayed." In the evening at 7:30 the pastor's theme will be, "The Reclaiming of a Backslider."

TRINITY LUTHERAN—Fairview avenue. Rev. Wm. H. Hetrick, D. D., pastor. Class in the catechism 9 A. M., Bible school 10 A. M., worship with sermon 11 A. M. The sermon will be on the theme, "In Subjection to Authority." The weakness so prevalent among Christians today, even within the church, among our public officials and in our citizenship, will be dwelt upon. Authority means no little because it is not properly maintained. There is too much doing as one pleases. Men are a law unto themselves. This is not scriptural.

If there is no authority, then what in the name of reason is left? The Lutheran Church still accepts the whole Bible and believes in being obedient to all constituted authorities. Every other course is anarchy headed toward chaos. Luther League 6:45 P. M., Evening church service 7:30 P. M., Sermon, "The World's Greatest Need." What is this need? What do you think it is? Is every one at fault now, yourself? The world's greatest need is the very thing we are all, without exception, falling down on. It can be answered in one word. We will have to quit professing to do it and do it, or reap the consequences. Already the harvest is here! You are invited to all services.

FIRST BAPTIST—E. M. Stevens, minister. Bible school, 9:45. Lesson story, "In the Days of Pharaoh of Egypt." Morning worship, 11. The pastor will speak on a subject that has to do with another church year, "The Making of a Great Church." E. Y. P. U., 8:45. Topic, "Young Folks at Work," leader, Miss Grace Blais. Evening service, 7:30. Sermon subject, "The Bok Award World Peace Plan." Every church member of the nation ought to be interested in this peace plan broadcasted over the country. We all know something must and eventually will be done to bring about world peace. It is significant that over 20,000 people seriously set out to win the Bok prize. What is the idea? Tuesday night at 8:30 the Men's Bible Class will meet in the church dining room for a great feast of food and eloquence. The E. B. Martin class will provide the whatsoever to eat. Wednesday the Sewing Circle will meet for an all day session.

COVENANTER—Rev. Johnston makes the following announcement: "10, Sabbath school; 11, sermon, 'There was no room for Him in the Inn.' How true it is today no place for Christ in the Inn. In the business world with very few exceptions there is no place for Christ. Selfishness and greed crowd Him out. In our national life He is not given a place. Peace conferences and peace plans are formulated but Christ, the Prince of Peace, is not recognized. The Bok plan is to bring peace without Him. Today there is no place for Christ in the Inn. As we read in Isaiah 58:3 'The way of Peace they know not.' 2:30, the Juniors' meeting; 6:30, C. Y. P. U., 'In His Steps'; leader, Miss Edna Mae Kincaid; 7:30, sermon, 'The Wayward Son'; 7:30 Wednesday evening, prayer meeting. 'The Living Christ'; leader, James Rosensteel. The teachers' meeting will be held one-half hour before the Sunday school."

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN—Vine and Newmyer, South Side, J. A. Ruffenmyer, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45. Lesson subject, "The Long Soljour in Egypt." Preaching services at 10:45. Rev. E. M. Deweller of Johnstown will preach. His subject will be "The Swimming Ax-Hound." Christian Workers' meeting at 8:45. Evening service at 7:30. Rev. Deweller will speak on "Christ the Wonderful." Evangelist services will continue two more weeks, the interest is this so far. Come and hear those great messages.

FIRST UNITED BRETHREN—Lincoln avenue, J. H. Bridgman, pastor. Sunday school, 9:45. Morning worship, 11 o'clock; subject, "The Nearness of God." Juniors, 2:30 P. M. Christian Endeavor, 6:30. Evening worship, 7:30 P. M.; subject, "Keep the Fire Burning." Evangelistic services will begin January 20.

TRINITY EPISCOPAL—First Sunday after Epiphany. Sunday school at 10 A. M. Evening worship at 7:45 P. M. D. Anthony Metzger of McKeesport will have charge of the services. You should not fail to hear these good sermons. There is room for all and the impression left will be lasting. So come to the Little Church on Fairview avenue. Men's Club will meet in the Parish House Thursday evening, January 17, at 7:30. Important that all members be present.

EVANGELICAL—Wine street, South Connelville. Clewett E. Miller, pastor. Sunday school, 9:30. Preaching, 10:30. Evening worship at 7:30, pulpit to be supplied. Prayer service on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

SUMMIT METHODIST PROTESTANT—J. H. Lamberton, supply pastor. Sunday school, 2 P. M.; Senior C. E., 7 P. M.; prayer meeting in the church on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock; cottage prayer meeting on Friday evening at 7:30. Revival meetings will begin in the M. P. Church on Monday evening, January 1st, and continue for two weeks.

Taking America Off Its Feet!

Overland Success is the Talk of the Country

Great strides ahead—conspicuous leadership—warm words of praise on the lips of people everywhere—all these things focus on one big, vital fact: Overland and Willys-Knight motor cars have the right stuff in them.

The year just ended has been the greatest of all the fifteen years of Willys-Overland history. A great year made by great cars—the greatest in looks, power, action, comfort—and money's worth!

Look at the new Overland Champion, for instance. It brings a quality closed car within reach of every purse. America's first all-purpose car—conceded to be the most useful motor car on wheels.

The price of the Champion—$695—is a champion price. And even if the new Overland Champion did not have the many unique features that make it famous, it would still be a remarkable value at its price. It is the only quality closed car seating more than two passengers ever sold under $700. Its greater value is typical of all the other Overland models.

The Champion and all Overland models have the bigger Overland engine—brute power with extreme economy. Leaders in economy—leaders on the road—leaders in the many satisfactions they bring to owners. See them. Sit in them. Ask for a sample of their performance.

"$1000 REWARD"—Showing today at this theatre presents Big Boy Williams in the role of "Sunny" Jim Davis.

An unusual case of circumstantial evidence was recently reported in Nye county when a cowboy was accused of murdering another ranch hand on the sole evidence that his revolver had been found near the dead man.

A peculiar circumstance connected with the case was the fact that the accused cowboy is the one who found the body and the revolver just as several others from the ranch where he worked rode up.

At first sight it looked like a clear case—the dead man and the cowboy with the weapon in his hand.

He protested his innocence and when about to be lynched, made a daring escape.

Monday and Tuesday "Alice Adams" starring Florence Vidor will be shown.

The Soisson

THE BEAUTIFUL AND DAMNED a story dealing with flappers and presenting Marie Prevost and Kenneth Harlan in the leading roles, provides splendid entertainment today at this theatre. Miss Prevost is cast as Gloria Gilbert a flapper with a soul who conceals it under a screen of selfishness. She accepts and marries Anthony Patch who is a social reformer. Anthony's will weakens with the marriage for he allows Gloria to live in idle pleasure while waiting for the grandfather philanthropist to die and leave them his millions. Marriage fails to steady them. They give a series of wild parties which culminate when old Adam Patch unexpectedly visits them and finds their home a rendezvous of wasters. He dies a week later and disinherits them in his will.

Monday Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday of this week Harold Lloyd will be seen in "Why Worry"

The Orpheum

'THE ETERNAL STRUGGLE' the leading picture today at this theatre presents Renee Adoree, Earle Williams, Barbara Lamar and Pat O'Malley in the leading roles. Many of the scenes were filmed in Northwest Canada. Miss Adoree narrowly escaped death twice—once, when caught in the path of the snowslide near Banff Alberta, and again when her canoe overturned in the treacherous Seymour Rapids. Although Reginald Barker the producer urged that she be "doubled" the plucky little star refused and went through her scenes without fear. Miss Adoree plays the part of Andrea, a French Canadian.

The Orpheum

'ASHES OF VENGEANCE' a screen masterpiece in which Norma Talmadge the famous screen star is magnificent throughout her difficult role, will be on view Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at this theatre. 'Ashes of Vengeance' is an historical romance of France in the turbulent period of Charles IX and his ambitious mother Catherine de Medici which was produced with infinite regard for accuracy. The Norma Talmadge company was initiated in the use of the film weapons by Mons. Cavens of the National Military Schools of Brussels. Belgium. Conway Tearle, a notable star fencer of Oxford College is one of those who wields both blades dexterously in 'Ashes of Vengeance' another being Countess Fata his opponent in one particularly thrilling duel fought in the fortress tower at a tavern. The powerful dramatic clashes and the wonderfully sweet love story of 'Ashes of Vengeance' are staged in settings of incomparable splendor. Forty-eight massive sets having been constructed for the production. In addition to the principals named the cast includes Wallace Beery, Josephine Crowell, Betty Francisco, Andre de Burca, Carmen Phillips and eleven other favorite players, besides four thousand extras.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

The Express to Slumberland.

When your little child won't go to sleep, but keeps fretting after being put to bed, something is amiss. The slumber state by attracting his attention with some simple little story about (fired and) sleepy animals or people, ending by having the child say: "The best thing I've found is a little exercise for the child's fingers. I name the fingers for members of the family, or for some animal family. I tell what each of them has been doing all day to make him tired, and tuck each one in bed by turning under the fingers in their order. Then when I caution the child not to waken his sleeping finger family he will usually keep quiet until the midnight clock rings.

Good Looks and Charm Found in All Women

Do you feel that nearly every woman in the world is more beautiful than you, and more charming? Do you get the blues over your unpopularity with men? Do you act the part of a drab and lowly earthworm when you venture into your employer's office to ask for a raise in pay?

Phone—turn over a new leaf! Stop worrying over the charms you think you lack. And, along with your powders, rouges and face creams, build up a serene belief in the good looks you undeniably possess.

This is the counsel given in the December issue of a famous New York physician who is visited annually by hundreds of patients in search of relief from troublesome nerves. Among these are women whose self-confidence is shattered because of their anxieties over real or fancied defects in their personal appearance.

The woman who believes she is homely is always much better looking than she thinks she is," he said.

Women who imagine they aren't as beautiful as other women—the world is full of them," he said. "They suffer black miseries over their pimples, noses, fat cheeks, big feet, stubby fingers, the shape of their noses, the size of their hands, the color of their skin. Their sensitiveness over their supposed ugliness hinders them such that often they cannot speak of it—not to their husbands, their mothers, their most trusted friends.

The woman who feels as ugly as a mud fence should take herself in hand. She can if she gives her horse sense a chance, throws off her delusion of ugliness. Probably she isn't conspicuous plain. It's her state of mind that needs improving.

Women who think they are fighting a losing battle with their slivers who get into the thick of the fun at dances who are elected to office in their clubs, or who land good jobs, he explained, "They're not ugly. Ducklings, but they can't shake off the shrinking ugly duckling feeling. They take a back seat for their haven't enough confidence in their beauty or their cleverness to warrant pushing themselves ahead.

"Of such women we say, 'She is capable but she lacks faith in herself.' 'She would be a charming hostess but for her shyness.' 'She could hold that job if she had nerve.'"

"I haven't the manner of a queen or the curls of a Mary Pickford so I won't play," their behavior says as plainly as words.

YOU MUST LIKE YOUR WIFE'S NETTING, I often see you in the audience.

HAD TO LET HOUSEWORK GO

So Ill Husband had to do the Work. Completely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

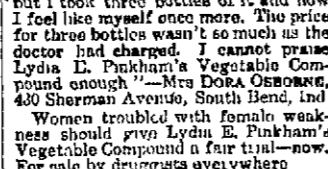

South Bend, Indiana.—"I was all run-down, tired out, and had pains in my back and bearing-down pains. I was so sore I could hardly drag myself around and was not able to do a bit of housework. My husband worked all day in the shop, and then came home and helped me all night. The doctors said I had female weakness, and there was no help but to be operated upon, and of course that would cost us a great deal. My husband heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the drug store and bought me a bottle of it. I had begun to think there was no help for me, but I took three bottles of it and now I feel like myself once more. The price for three bottles wasn't so much as the doctor had charged. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough."—Mrs. Dora Ostrom, 430 Sherman Avenue, South Bend, Ind.

Women troubled with female weakness should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial—now. For sale by druggists everywhere.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1924 Western Newspaper Union.)

Puddings, my friend do a mission fulfill. They add to the dinner and also the bill. They cause men to wish with ardor they may. That the meal which foretells them came three times a day.

WHAT TO EAT

The daily problem of thinking up something reasonable, economical and with a minimum amount of work is not the easiest thing a housewife has to do in planning her meals.

Some cooks find the breakfast a hard meal to plan, others depending upon the tastes of the family, and it the easiest of meals. However, it should be a reasonably simple meal, easy to prepare, digestible and wholesome, suited to the individual as to age, health, and occupation. In general the favored breakfast menu may be fruit in season, cereal with cream and sugar or without sugar, eggs, toast and coffee. Omitting the eggs, sausage may be served with hot cakes instead of toast.

For luncheon baked potatoes and creamed codfish, popovers, canned fruit and cookies with tea or cocoa.

Another—Stuffed cold meat scalloped potatoes, mince, peaches and cookies with tea.

Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast beef, spinach, lettuce salad, potatoes browned with the roast, baked apples and whipped cream, served with a small cup cake frosted with chocolate coffee.

Another—A codfish chowder, cold meat or cabbage salad, Johnny cake, and for dessert.

Banana Lemon Whip—Boil together two cups of sugar, two cups of water and the grated yellow rind of a lemon until the syrup boils. Soften one-half of a package of gelatin in cold water and add to the hot syrup. Stir until dissolved, then add the sifted pulp of four ripe bananas, mixed with the juice of two lemons. Pour all into a large bowl to cool and when the edges begin to harden, beat the mixture with a large sized Dover egg beater continuing to beat until the whole is creamy then it may be poured into a mold and chilled, or served piled into sherbet glasses.

Wall Paper and Paint Given Away

On one certain day in January we will refund the price paid for every article purchased from us on that day. No strings, no advances in prices. No reservations made except on.

Linseed Oil, White Lead and Turpentine

No matter how much you buy. You can buy enough paper to paper your entire house, or paint enough to paint it.

This is the plan that we have arranged with the Colonial National Bank. They take a January calendar and mark one date, Sundays excluded, with a cross as illustrated:

[X]

It may be the first day of the month that is marked, or it may be the last, or anywhere between, so it will pay to start early and scatter your purchases over the entire month.

This January calendar is placed in an envelope and sealed by the Cashier, and kept by the Colonial National Bank. On the first day of February this envelope will be opened by an officer of the bank in the presence of responsible witnesses and the date marked will be announced in this paper.

No one but the bank officer will know the date. This means to everyone who bought goods from us on that date, and paid for them in cash, we will refund every dollar at purchase price. It makes no difference how many people, where they are from or how much your purchases, it all goes.

ARE YOU LUCKY?

Buy it in January and Get it Free

RULES—You must keep your purchase slips and present same to us on or before February 10th, 1924, in order to get your money. (Purchase slips must be presented.)

VIOLA GWYN

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

"He's been a good friend to me, Mr. Gwynne, Mr. Lapelle has," said she, a little huskily. She waited a moment and then went on earnestly and with a gurgling laugh that amazed him: "I don't hear what he's done that isn't right, or what people is going to say about him, he's all been nice to me. I guess maybe you are a 'vonderful' why I told the State about him, I guess that don't look very friendly, I guess. He wasn't here so I thought I might get him for myself some time—no, he wasn't that. Mr. Gwynne, I ain't setch a foot as to think he could ever want to be spakin' me. I reckon the State told ye I was jealous. Well, I wasn't, I declare to goodness I wasn't. He has been so I just couldn't how her to get married to him, knowin' what I do. I was tryin' to make up my mind to go see her some time and tell her not to marry him but I just couldn't."

"Well—What El I Do?"

seem to get the quick to do it. She used to come to see me when I was sick last winter and she was mighty nice to me.

"First thing I know, him an' Pap begin to fix up this plan to carry her off. So I started up to town to tell her. I got as far as Iko's when I figured I better let him do it him being a man, so I dropped in at his cabin on hole him. I didn't know what else to do. I had to stop 'em from doin' it somehow. He wouldn't do no good for me to beg Pap to drop it or to run up on my hind-legs an' make threats against 'em, or to threaten 'em, but I stop to that. Course I had it all figured out what I was goin' to do when that pack o' rascals got caught tryin' to steal her—some of 'em shot, like as not—and I didn't much care whether my Pap was one of 'em or not."

"I knowed where Mr. Lapelle was to meet 'em down the river across from Le Grange, so I was figgerin' on findin' him there an' tellin' him what had happened an' fer him to make his escape down the river while he had setch a good start. I wasn't goin' to let anything happen to Miss Viola Gwynne if I could help it. I—I sort of figured it out as a good way to help both o' my friends, Mr. Gwynne, an'—an' then this here thing happened. I want Mr. Lapelle to get away safe—cause I know what Pap's goin' to do. He's goin' to blast out a lot o' things. He says he's sure Mr. Lapelle put Mrs. Gwyn up to havin' him arrested."

"I think you may rest easy, Moll," said he, a trifle grimly. "Mr. Lapelle had an engagement with me for tomorrow mornin' but I'll stink my life he will not be here to keep it."

"All right," she said, satisfied. "If you say so, Mr. Gwynne, I'll believe it. What do you think they'll do to Pap?"

"He will probably get a dose of the whipping-post, for one thing."

She grinned. "Gosh, I wish I could be somethin' about so's I could see it," she cried.

CHAPTER XIX

Challenge and Retort.

Kenneth could hardly contain himself until the time came for him to go home for his noonday meal. Try as he would, he could not divorce his thoughts from the trouble that had come to Viola. The sinister tragedy in Martin Hawk's cabin was as nothing compared to the calamity that had befallen the girl he loved, for Moll Hawk's trouble would pass like a whiff of the wind, while Viola's would endure to the end of time—always a shadow hanging over her brightest day, a cloud that would not vanish. Out of the silence had come a murmur more devastating than the thunderbolt with all its bombastic fury; out of the silence had come a voice that would go on forever whispering into her ear an untold story.

A crowd still hung about the jail and small, ever shifting groups held sober discourse in front of business places. He hurried by them and struck off up the road, his mind so intent upon what lay ahead of him that he failed to notice that Jack Trentman had detached himself from the group in front of the undertaker's and was following swiftly after him. He was nearly half-way home when he turned, in response to a call from behind, and beheld the gambler.

"I'd like a word with you, Mr. Gwynne," drawled Jack. "I am in somewhat of a hurry, Mr. —"

"I'll walk along with you, if you don't mind," said the other, coming up beside him. "I'm not in the habit of beating about the bush. When I've got anything to do, I do it without much fiddling. Harry Lapelle is down at my place. He has asked me to represent him in a little controversy that seems to call for physical adjudication. How will day after tomorrow at five in the morning suit you?"

"Perfectly," replied Kenneth, stiffly. "Convey my compliments to Mr. Lapelle and say to him that I overlook the irregularity and will be glad to meet him at any time and any place."

"I know it's irregular," admitted Mr. Trentman, with an apologetic wave of the hand, "but he was in some doubt as to who might have the honor to act for you, Mr. Gwynne, so he suggested that I come to you direct. If you will oblige me with the name of the friend who is to act as your second, I will make a point of apologizing for having accused you in this manner, and also perfect the details with him."

"I haven't given the matter a moment's thought," said Kenneth frowning. "Day after tomorrow mornin', you say?"

"Yes, sir."

"Can't you arrange it for tomorrow mornin'?"

Mr. Trentman spread out his hands in a deprecating manner. "The view of the fact that you are expected to appear in court at nine tomorrow mornin' to defend an unfortunate girl Mr. Lapelle feels that he would be doing your client a very grave injustice if he killed her lawyer—er—a trifle prematurely you might say. He has confided to me that he is the young woman's friend and can't bear the thought of having her chances jeopardized by—"

"Pardon me, Mr. Trentman," interrupted Kenneth shortly. "Both of you are uncommonly thoughtful and considerate. Now that I am reminded of my pleasant little encounter with Mr. Lapelle this mornin', I am constrained to remark that I have had all the satisfaction I desire. You may say to him that I am a gentleman and not in the habit of fighting duels with horse-thieves."

Mr. Trentman started. His vaunted aplomb sustained a sharp spasm that left him with a slightly fallen jaw. "Am I to understand, sir, that you are referring to my friend as a horse thief?" he demanded, bristling.

"I merely asked you to take that message to him," said Kenneth coolly. "I might add cattle thief, sheep stealer, hog thief or—"

"Why, good G-d, sir," gasped Trentman, "he'd shoot you down like a dog if I—"

"You might also tell Mr. Lapelle that his bosom friend Martin Hawk is in jail."

"Well, what of it?"

"Does Lapelle know that Martin is in jail?"

"Certainly—and he says he ought to be hung. That's what he thinks of Hawk. A man that would sell his own—"

"Hawk is in jail for stockstealing, Mr. Trentman."

"What's that got to do with the case? What's that got to do with your calling my friend a horse thief?"

"A whole lot, sir. You will probably find out before the day is over that you are harboring and concealing a thief down there in your shanty, and you may thank Martin Hawk for the information in case you prefer not to accept the word of a gentleman. If you were to come to me as a client seeking counsel, I should not hesitate to advise you—as your lawyer—that there is a law against harboring criminals and that you are laying yourself open to prosecution."

Trentman dubiously felt of his chin.

"Being well versed in the law," he said, "I suppose you realize that Mr. Lapelle can recover heavy damages against you in case what you have said to me isn't true."

"Perfectly. Therefore, I repeat to you that I cannot engage in an affair of honor with a thief. I knocked him down this mornin', but that was in the heat of righteous anger. For fear that your report to him may lead Mr. Lapelle to construe my refusal to meet him day after tomorrow morning as cowardice on my part, permit me to make this request of you. Please say to him that I shall arm myself with a pistol as soon as I have reached my house, and that I expect to be going about the streets of Lafayette as usual."

"I see," said Trentman, after a moment. "You mean you'll be ready for him in case he hums you up?"

"Exactly."

"By the way, Mr. Gwynne, have you ever fought a duel?"

"No."

What the motor car owner has the right to expect for his money

Virtually every prospective motor car purchaser enters an automobile showroom with a pre-conceived idea of what he can reasonably pay for an automobile.

And in return for his investment, he expects the maximum in car qualities.

Somewhere in the wide range of car prices there must be a par value. A car that is one hundred per cent through and through. A car that is perfect in every quality essential to satisfying and economical motor transportation.

That is the car he aspires to possess. That is the car he must possess for full-dollar value.

What constitutes 100 per cent in an automobile? The following elements, which should be the motor car buyer's inflexible guide:

- Appearance is such good taste that it perpetuates itself.
- Comfort that invites immediate and complete relaxation.
- Riding qualities that do not disturb that relaxation.
- Operating controls so accessible they seem to come naturally to the hand.
- A motor flexibility so swift and smooth in action that without apparent effort the car steers out ahead, brakes soft and yet so positive as to insure control under any or all conditions—a large safety reserve.
- Durability established by co-ordination and balance of recognized standard units and practice, with ample factors of safety throughout.
- A transportation service rendered that is nearly constant—with tire mileage extraordinarily high and gasoline and oil consumption extraordinarily low plus car design that permits easy accessibility for the exchange of interchangeable parts.
- Wide recognition, insuring high re-sale value.
- Reasonably priced without compromise as to quality, luxury or price.

All these, correlated, constitute the hundred per cent value to be found in the Haynes.
